Bookable spaces

Some of the public open spaces shown in this brochure require a booking for use.

A booking does not guarantee exclusive use, but it will assist in ensuring that there are no double bookings for events such as wedding ceremonies.

If you would like to book a space or would like further information, please contact the City of Swan Facilities Booking team on 9267 9321 or by email at facility.bookings@swan.wa.gov.au

Use of barbecues

Electric barbecues are free to use and can be used at any time throughout the year.

From December to March, the use of wood fired barbecues is subject to prevailing fire conditions during the prohibited burning season.

If you are unsure of the restrictions that are in place at the time you wish to use a wood fired barbecue, please contact the City's Community Safety Advocates on 9267 9326.

Please note that firewood is not provided for wood fired barbecues.

Swan Valley Visitor Centre

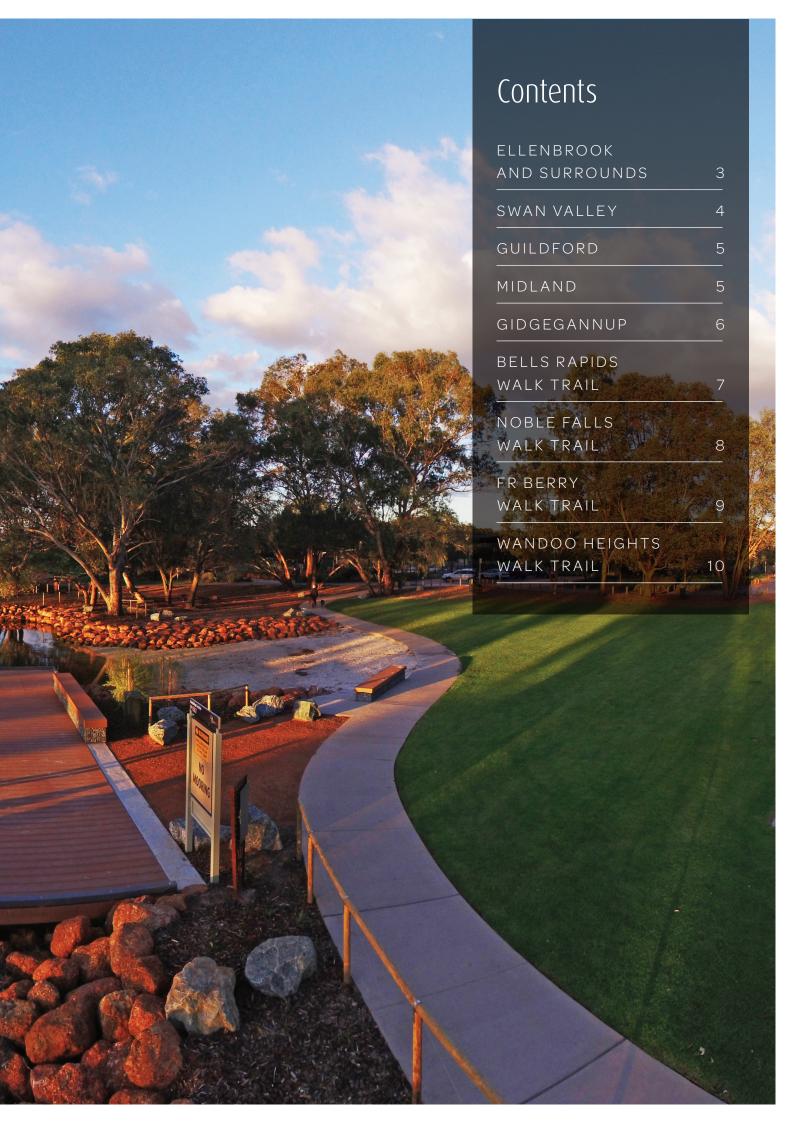

The Swan Valley Visitor Centre can provide assistance with tours, brochures, accommodation bookings and general information on the Swan Valley, Guildford and surrounding areas.

The Visitor Centre is located at the corner of Meadow and Swan Streets in Guildford and is open seven days a week between 9am and 4pm.

Swan Valley

World-class wineries, breweries, distilleries, countless gourmet artisan goods, handcrafted wares, bustling markets, vibrant studios, top-notch eateries and of course parks, picnic spots and trails, just 25 minutes from Perth. This is the Swan Valley.

Swan Valley Food & Wine Trail

Here's a little fact that may surprise you: the Swan Valley is deceptively compact, requiring just an hour to circumnavigate it. But those embarking on the 32km scenic loop, known as the Swan Valley Food and Wine Trail, usually prefer to take their merry time, meandering over an entire day.

After all, who wants to rush when there are over 150 amazing attractions to discover, including some of the finest restaurants and wineries in the state, breweries, distilleries, art galleries and wildlife parks?

Swan Valley Heritage Cycling Trail

With its wide open spaces, vineyard vistas and plenty of fresh country air, the Swan Valley is the perfect place for a cycle. Load up your bikes, or hire one if you prefer, and take a leisurely peddle around this charming corner of the world.

The Swan Valley Cycle Trail takes in the rich history, interesting characters and natural elements of the Swan Valley. A stunning showcase of fresh produce stalls, pretty picnic spots, exciting galleries, and a host of world class wineries and restaurants, there are countless opportunities to enjoy an abundance of experiences.

The trail has four different routes, each signposted to depict the rich history, interesting characters and natural elements of the areas. There are plenty of scenic rest spots along the way, so visitors can pack a picnic and make a day of it. Bike Hire is available, ask for details at the Swan Valley Visitor Centre.

Cider and Ale Trail

Your cup is set to runneth over with a series of sparkling ciders and boutique ales just waiting to be explored on a ground-breaking new trail.

The Swan Valley may be renowned for the third and fourth generation family-owned wineries in the region, but talented brewers are also flocking to the area to set up shop.

Swan Valley's Cider and Ale trail quenches the thirst of even the fussiest connoisseur, with nine breweries and cideries earmarked, including Elmar's in the Valley, Duckstein Brewery, Funk Cider, Oakover Estate, Mash Brewery, Ironbark Brewery, Feral Brewing Company, Figtree Estate and the Homestead Brewery.

The Great Valley Rally and the Amazing Valley Chase

Get on board The Great Valley Rally with Stirling Swan or chase down an amazing adventure with Taylor Tortoise, two thrilling treasure hunts where you and your fellow savvy explorers can follow the cryptic clues along specific routes in the Valley.

Designed for families with children aged 5-12 years old, the trail begins at the Swan Valley Visitor Centre and takes around three hours to complete. Don't forget to take your completed clue sheet into the Swan Valley Visitor Centre to claim your certificate after your adventure.

Whiteman Park

Whiteman Park is ten times the size of Kings Park and home to a heap of incredible facilities, events and attractions for the whole family. Explore the beautiful banksia bushland and catch a glimpse of grey kangaroos or a black-gloved wallaby on one of three bush trails or the extensive bike paths. You can also enjoy other attractions such as the Children's Forest and Caversham Wildlife Park (entry fee applies for the Wildlife Park). Picnic areas are open seven days a week from 8.30am until 6pm and admission is free.

Guildford

Quaintly picturesque and brimming with tales from the past, historic Guildford - the gateway to the Swan Valley - will delight with its stunning sights and remarkable stories.

With its colonial buildings, convict history, antique stores, character pubs and village charm, Guildford, which is classified as a historic town by the National Trust of Australia (WA), truly has the feel of a bygone era.

Feeling peckish? Glorious Guildford is filled with some seriously good restaurants, pubs and cafés including an award winning ice creamery, the iconic Alfred's Kitchen, historic pubs, tapas, Thai, Vietnamese, Italian, modern Australian fare and tea rooms offering tasty treats.

Shopaholics will love the James Street antique strip, which offers a colossal range of vintage and second-hand wares outside Perth. You'll also discover specialty gift shops, galleries, premium garden centres, chic furniture and clothing stores.

Guildford Heritage Walk Trails

Guildford was one of three towns established during the founding of the Swan River Colony in 1829 and has been preserved beautifully.

Today, visitors can enjoy a host of walk trails around Guildford that showcase the loveliness and history of the town. With flat grounds that are lush and green, it's a perfect spot to stroll around or enjoy one of four short walk trails ranging from 20 minutes to just over one hour.

The River Ramble passes the historic Rose and Crown Hotel (built in 1841) and Padbury's Store (1869), while the Stirling Square incorporates the best of the Meadow Street precinct including the Guildford Gaol (1841), the Courthouse (1866) and Taylor's Cottage. There's also the Captain Stirling Walk and the Town Walk to enjoy.

Midland

Midland is located 16km north east of Perth CBD or just a short journey on the train from Guildford.

As the City of Swan's major strategic centre, Midland is the principal place for the provision of retail, commercial, community, entertainment, residential and employment activities in the north east metropolitan area.

On top of the major shopping precinct, restaurants and cinema, Midland is also bordered by the Swan and Helena rivers and has used this beautiful landscape to create some enjoyable outdoor experiences for visitors.

Gidgegannup

The township of Gidgegannup has a warm, country feel and is located on Toodyay Road, between the Swan Valley, Avon Valley and Toodyay, approximately 42km from Perth.

Gidgegannup boasts a picturesque natural landscape of pristine bushland, rolling hills and valleys, dotted with clear areas supporting a range of broadacre and more intensive boutique activities such as organic farming, alpacas, olives and dairy farming. The name Gidgegannup comes from a Noongar word meaning "Place where spears are made" and was first recorded by passing surveyors in 1852.

Gidgegannup is an area of regional biodiversity with an abundance of wildlife and wildflowers. The area also has local waterways and significant wetlands including the Avon River, Red Swamp, Wooroloo Brook, Gidgegannup Brook and Jane Brook, running through it.

For those wanting to get the most out of a visit to Gidgegannup, a number of scenic wildflower and wildlife walk and drive trails have been developed. The best time to view the wildflowers is Spring (September to November).

Visitors can create their own picnic hamper at the local bakery and then head out on a trail. Alternatively they can enjoy the laid back vibe of a country tavern or the stunning surrounds at a winery restaurant after a day of exploring.

Handmade soaps and locally grown lavender products make great take home memories of your visit or gifts for friends and family. If you are looking for something more physical and adventurous than a walk, why not try paintball?

Gidgegannup Wildflower Drives

There are two scenic and varied drives that start 42km east of Perth and centre on the Gidgegannup village. Both wildflower drives pass through mixed Marri, Jarrah, Powderbark and Wandoo woodlands, providing views of the countryside and the range of agricultural activities in the region. The peak viewing time for the wildflower season is spring (September to November) when the yellow Wattles and Hibbertia commence flowering alongside the distinctive rich blue Leschenaultia.

Walyunga Lookout in Walyunga National Park

The Walyunga lookout is located at the end of Ewing road (off O'Brien road and 16km from Toodyay road) on the rim of the darling scarp. This area provides picnic facilities and sweeping views of the Avon Valley.

Paruna Sanctuary

The Paruna Sanctuary is 2,000 hectares of pristine Jarrah, Wandoo and Powderbark forest, shrub land and water bank habitat. This forms a substantial environmental corridor along the Avon River and links the Walyunga and Avon Valley national parks.

The Paruna Sanctuary has made a major contribution to the re-establishment of threatened native species including the Woylie, Quenda, Tammar Wallaby and Black-flanked Rock Wallaby. There are 15km of walk trails that provide for viewing of waterfalls in Winter and wildflowers in Spring. Guided walks are also available. Please note: it is essential to make a booking in order to gain access to the trails. For more information on the Paruna Sanctuary trails, please visit www.australianwildlife.org.au

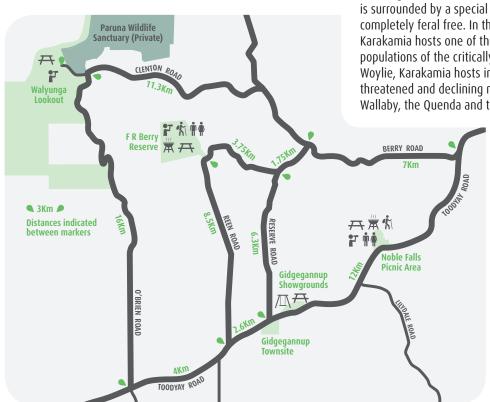

Karakamia Wildlife Sanctuary

Covering 275 hectares in the jarrah forest bioregion, Avon Road is surrounded by a special purpose conservation fence and is completely feral free. In the absence of foxes and cats, Karakamia hosts one of the most significant remaining wild populations of the critically endangered Woylie. As well as the Woylie, Karakamia hosts important populations of other threatened and declining mammals including the Tammar Wallaby, the Quenda and the Western Ringtail Possum.

The Sanctuary is named after the Red-tailed Black Cockatoo (Karak), one of three species of black cockatoo found on the property.

The property also hosts a public education program and Australian Wildlife Conservation staff take guided nocturnal walks, introducing guests to the Australian bush and its abundance of wildlife.

For more information on the Karakamia Wildlife Sanctuary, please visit www.australianwildlife.org

Bells Rapids Walk Trail

The Bells Rapid Walk Trail, incorporating the River Walk and the Goat Walk, is a stunning stretch along the Swan River. See this tranquil spot and you'll soon understand why it's home to the famous Avon Descent and noted for being one of the best vantage points for the event.

With majestic boulders and rushing waters in the winter, this walk will take your breath away. Bells Rapid is also the habitat of the beautiful grey kangaroo, which can often be seen in abundance.

F R Berry Walk Trail

The FR Berry reserve is home to several vegetation communities including Wandoo, Marri and Jarrah woodlands. There is also a paperbark fringed creek line, granite outcrops, winter waterfalls and several rare species unique to this area.

The vegetation in this area provides a valuable habitat for a wonderful variety of Western Australian fauna including the Honey Possum, Mardo, Gould's Monitor, Bobtail, Western Green Tree Frog, Weebill and the endangered Carnaby's Cockatoo. The reserve is currently under threat from Dieback, so visitors are asked to carry methylated spirits to wipe down shoes before and after their walk.

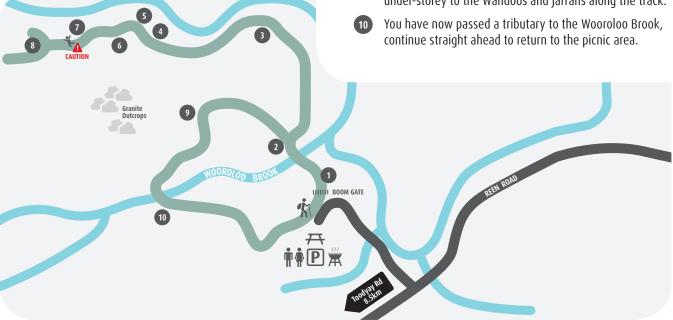

F R Berry	Walk Details
Location	Located at Reen Road, off Toodyay Road in Gidgegannup. Travel 8.5km down Reen Road and the F R Berry Reserve is sign posted on the left.
Length	2.7km
Grade	Generally flat, however, there are some steeper sections with gravel surface.
Walk time	45 minutes
Facilities	Picnic tables, toilet, wood BBQ.
On site information	Totem markers are located on the trail
Best season	Mid-Autumn to late Spring.

The walk trail starts from the picnic facility and car park area.

Follow the direction of the arrow on the trail head totem back down the access road to the white boom gate and enter the walk trail here (please note that the numbered trail markers start just after the boom gate).

Walk Trail Key

- Follow the indication arrow straight ahead through Wandoo trees and across the winter creek to sign number two.
- At this point, take the track to the right as indicated by the top arrow. This takes you into open Jarrah/Marri forest on your left, with creek line vegetation associated with the Wooroloo Brook on your right. (Please note that on the return walk you can take the alternative route, indicated by the lower arrow on this totem, back to the picnic area and car park if you feel like a longer walk).
- If you walk straight ahead you will come to the Wooroloo Brook. Notice the change in vegetation here to Freshwater Paperbark (Melaleuca) and Swamp Banksia associated with the stream environment. The main walk trail continues to the left at this arrow.
- You will by now have passed many magnificent granite outcrops to the left with a diverse array of wildflowers surrounding them during the season.
- Rest here for a moment under the magnificent Marri tree and enjoy the view to the Wooroloo Brook and granite outcrops to the north.
- Head back onto the main track towards the waterfall.
- Pass the One-sided Bottlebrush (Calothamnus), very popular with insects and birds because of their nectar-rich flowers. A CAUTION: The trail ahead is quite steep and can be slippery please be careful.
- This is the end of the walk trail rest here for a while and enjoy the spectacular lookout over the waterfall, a real feast for the eyes in any season. During the right season, Vanilla Sun Orchids may be seen amongst the Borya (Pin Cushion). Now you will need to turn around and retrace your steps to signpost 2. At this point you can continue back to the picnic ground the way you came or take the alternative (and longer) route back to the picnic ground. Follow the markers uphill to point 10.
- 2 Continue on enjoying the wildflowers that form an under-storey to the Wandoos and Jarrahs along the track.

A Pocket History of Wandoo Heights

This property is a unique bush landscape on the Darling Escarpment and is situated 13km from Midland.

Comprising of two lots totalling 22 hectares, Wandoo Heights is part of an original block of 4,000 hectares on the Upper Swan, granted in 1830 to George Fletcher Moore, the Advocate General for the Swan Colony.

Because of its general unsuitability for farming, Wandoo Heights was not cleared in the early days and is still in its virgin state (as would have been observed by the early botanists in the 1820's).

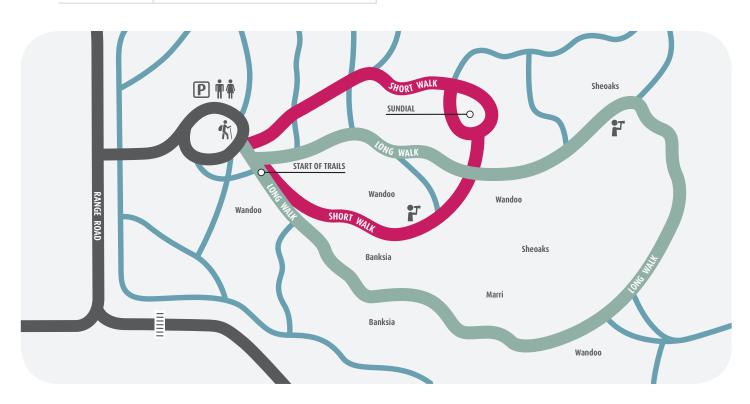

In 1960, the property was acquired by Miss Olive Gear and Mr Harry and Miss Adela Hyde. Unfortunately, Mr Hyde drowned two years after the purchase of the property. Undaunted and with the help of volunteers, the ladies maintained the property in excellent condition, while at the same time improving access to enable the extensive range of wildflowers to be observed without damaging the environment.

In 1988, the property was entrusted to the City of Swan as it was becoming too difficult for the ladies to manage effectively. The deed charges the City with maintaining Wandoo Heights as a flora and fauna reserve for present and future generations.

Dieback has recently been identified in Wandoo Heights. Prior to entry, ensure all vehicles and footwear are free of soil. Please keep to the paths, take only photographs, and leave only footprints.

Please note: This is a controlled access walk trail. Permission is required through the City of Swan, contact 9267 9267.
