THE EASY GUIDE TO TASTING Hunter Valley Wines

Visiting a Hunter Valley cellar door you'll find love at first... taste.

Visiting Hunter Valley wineries is not only a fun experience, you'll find special wines that are often smaller production, higher quality and more interesting in style. Here is our guide to helping you look like an expert when it comes to your cellar door wine tasting experience:

- Look at the glass. Try and put a white piece of paper behind the glass. Colour of wine can tell you a lot about the wine. A youthful wine will have a different colour to an aged or mature wine, the treatment in oak can even affect the colour! The 'legs' or the clear running film of wine that's slow to fall will tell you about the level of alcohol in the wine.
- Swirl the wine. If you can't manage to keep the contents inside your glass, place the base on a flat surface and swirl in circular motions keeping the base flat. Swirling opens up wine to air, oxygenation releases flavour as air excites the molecules in the wine – expanding the palate and the bouquet.
- Smell. They say taste is through our nose, and what types of food to serve the wine with? wine is in the aroma. We call this the wine's "bouquet".
- Sip. Don't gulp wine! Wine is all about mouth feel, so don't rush it. Sip, keeping it on the front of your palate and then pull the wine through your mouth allowing it to show different layers of flavour. Pull the wine to the far corners of your mouth and take note of "mouth feel" as much as you do the taste.
- Spit. If you are out having a wine tasting where you might taste a series of wines, it is indeed etiquette to spit after tasting! Don't feel embarrassed, simply lower your head to a spoon on the counter and discreetly spit the contents into the bucket.
- Evaluate. A good wine is always the one you loved! Take note: was it fruity, dry, acidic, tannic, light, lively or full bodied? Be sure to ask questions as the cellar door servers are very knowledgeable. They may even have suggestions on what types of food to serve the wine with! Always consider making a purchase to take a lovely local wine home to share with friends and family.

Taste Responsibly. Tastings are provided to assist you in choosing a product. Be responsible for our consumption. Liquor laws prohibit the sale and supply of alcohol to intoxicated persons.

Hold the glass by the stem. Holding the bowl of the wine glass would only be to heat up the wine with your hands – for wines served too cold.

Follow the tasting sheet set in order, or try to taste the selected wines in the same order. Tasting sheets are set up from light and crisp wines, through to medium bodied, heavy reds then to sweet.

Approximately 5 tastings of 20ml of standard wines at 120c each (alcohol by volume) will equal one standard drink.

A standard drink is any drink containing 10 grams of alcohol. Note there will be variability of pour size, and alcohol content across the wines you might taste. Always read the bottle for the exact number of standard drinks.

Be responsible: don't drink and drive! 0.05 is the legal alcohol limit for most drivers. Getting behind the wheel with a blood alcohol level above 0.05 is a criminal offence which carries a 3-year alcohol limit.
